CALL'S AGUINALDO'S REQUEST RIDICULOUS

Permission Not Given the Insurgents to Occupy Blockhouses.

FILIPINO WANTED TO MAKE APPOINTMENTS

Must Be No Dual Occupation of Manila—Capture of Iloilo—Otis Gives His Testimony.

Washington, March 19.—General Otis continued his testimony before the Senate Philippine Committee today. Referring to his order of September 8, 1898, directing the withdrawal of the insurgent troops outside the defenses of Manila, General Otis explained that a commission from Aguinaldo's Cabinet visited him. In the discussion which followed he said they did not mention the fact that the towns immediately adjacent to Manila were not a portion of the city. He claimed as ridiculous Aguinaldo's request to receive a portion of the northern part of Manila, occupied by the Spaniards, in trade for something in the southern part of the city held by the insurgents.

General Otis said he did not give the insurgents actual permission to occupy the blockhouses, which Aguinaldo claimed had been given. What had been said was: "I don't care any thing about the blockhouses; we are going to take possession of them."

General Otis said that Aguinaldo had demanded of General Otis the right to occupy the Palace and to make appointments in the civil government, which caused General Merritt to cable Washington for instructions. The reply was that there must be no dual occupation of Manila.

General Otis then detailed the circumstances attending the capture of Iloilo, the offer of the Spanish General, Rios, to hold the place against the insurgents pending the arrival of United States troops, and the capture of the town by the Visayans before the arrival of the United States troops. Aguinaldo, he said, was overjoyed when he learned that the detachment had been sent out, because he (Aguinaldo) declared that the first shot would be fired at Iloilo which would bring on war between the United States and the insurgent forces. General Otis said he had cabled Washington, saying that the taking of Iloilo meant war in the islands, and had received the response to defer action, which he did until the insurgents made war on the United States forces in Manila.

He had, he said, issued his proclamation extending military authority to all parts of the archipelago under instructions from the President.

Senator Rawlins sought to show that many of the things done by the United States military authorities were in contravention of the protocol, but General Otis explained that he felt it his duty to protect lives and property.

The committee adjourned until 2:30 p. m. in order to permit General Otis to conclude his testimony today.

At the afternoon session General Otis, referring to his proclamation, said he expressly omitted therefrom the word "sovereignty," because the Philippines attached to it the meaning which the word conveyed to them while under the domination of Spain.

Senator Carmack called his attention to the difference between the language used by the President in his instructions and that contained in his (Otis's) proclamation, and asked why he had also omitted the words "control," "government," "lawful rule," "authority must remain supreme."

General Otis explained that when these instructions of the President were received he was somewhat surprised. He was afraid they would be disastrous and assist the Aguinaldo government to excite the people of Luzon. General Otis said he told Admiral Dewey, who had called on him the following day, that he did not think the President understood the situation, owing to the great distance of the islands from Washington, and that under the conditions then prevailing he would be perfectly justified in making certain amendments. Leading Filipino told him that the words referred to might be used by Mabini to excite the people.

Senator Patterson asked General Otis if the idea of the Filipino people regarding the hopes and aspirations for independence was a mistaken one.

then attacking the Americans, I suppose. We have the papers of the original junta."

"No man ever worked harder in the interests of peace than I," said the General, "but if the United States troops had attacked the Filipinos and driven them out of the city when they first got there it would have been much better. They got very 'cocky' after awhile, and thought they could sweep us into the bay."

THE EXCLUSION ACT

Editor Sunday Bulletin: As so much has been written, and said, during the past relative to the exclusion act, pro and con, I feel that it would not be out of place to call your readers' attention to a portion of an address delivered before the "Century Club," Seattle, Wash., by Mrs. John D. Allen of that city. Although I question whether it is possible to secure legislation at this time which would cover these points, at the same time I feel that the address has set before us an ideal, which some day the American people will adopt as the principles underlying our exclusion laws. I regret that I am unable through want of space to quote the address in full, as it contains many points of interest to the people of these islands. She says:

"You ask me do I favor restriction? By all means. Upon what basis? Were I President, I'd sign no bill that did not oblige every emigrant to show his worth and fitness before embarking, which could be done by the consular service of the United States. Eliminate the number of ports to one to three in each country; place men of eminent fitness as consuls there, and guard well the emigration. Issue no certificates to illiterates, those who have ever been convicted of any crime, those who cannot show enough money to buy their passage and support them for at least six months or a year, none who show physical weakness, who would make them liable to be a public charge, or contaminate the health or morals of the community. Admit no anarchists, nihilists or socialists. Oblige a declaration of citizenship upon arrival. Allow no persons to be naturalized for at least five years, and if they do not within one year after the period of probation, become citizens of the United States, be deported. Compel every minor child to attend school, at least six months each year, where only English branches are taught. Give naturalization papers to no one who cannot read, write and speak the English language and show a reasonable knowledge of our institutions. Deport or punish every anarchist who through speech or press teaches his anarchist principles, and lastly restrict the ballot by the same educational test. Make no distinction on line of sex, or color of skin, or shape of eyebrows."

"Let this republic stand on intelligence and honesty and honor, or let it fall to decay."

"Let a National Board of Immigration be created to work with State boards, to distribute economically the overcrowded immigration of the East to the points needing labor, and by securing in advance the employment."

have no idle, dependent laborers in one State, with another State suffering for lack of the same labor. An immigrant who has enough to support him for six months, would have enough to transport him to another part of the country, where work could be secured and his employment was assured upon his arrival. It is said that last year during the harvest season, the farmers of Kansas boarded the railroad trains and compelled, by the aid of revolvers, laborers destined to other points, to stop and assist them in saving their crops."

"The labor unions are right in asking for national and State aid to disseminate labor to points where industries are suffering for lack of it."

"Our free employment bureaus could aid in securing places and when we adopt the European custom of employing no one without a certificate showing ability and trustworthiness, then we shall have better service and worthy employees, better wages and secure employment."

As petitions from the women's organizations of the United States, having the above points, have been circulated and forwarded to the Members of Congress, with a view of securing restriction on broader and nobler principles than the present Exclusion Act,

TO THEE WE CRY, O LORD

O Thou who by compassion's power
divine,
Wert moved to leave Thy Father's house on high,
That on life's thorny path might ever shine
The light that leads to heaven's realms sublime—
To Thee we cry!

O Thou who, in thy dying pain forgave
The cruel hands that nailed Thee to the tree;
Who, conquering death, rose glorious
from the grave,
That all the world might know Thy power to save—
We call to Thee!

How long, O Lord, before the world,
indeed,
Shall follow Thy command of brotherhood?
How long will earthly empires growing greed
Hurl thousands forth upon the field to bleed
For gain, not good?

Look down upon the land where widows mourn
The loss of those who had the heart to dare,
And rose to strike that greed, of conquest born,
Which crowns a king while human hearts are torn.
O Lord, look there!

NEW BISHOP TALKS OF THE TRANSFER

NICHOLS SPEAKS ON GROWTH OF CHURCH

Expansion of Pacific Commerce and Other Interests Must Prove Beneficial to This Bishopric.

On Tuesday of this week an event making an epoch in the history of the Anglican church in Hawaii will take place, namely the formal transfer of the bishopric from the present incumbent, Bishop Willis, to Bishop Nichols. Bishop Nichols when seen last night expressed himself as follows on the situation:

"I do not, of course, desire to discuss the present situation and difficulties which have appeared in the church at Honolulu. I am here only temporarily to represent the presiding Bishop of the House of Bishops, namely, the Bishop of Rhode Island, in the formal transfer. This is done for the reason that the House of Bishops fully recognizes the importance of this transfer and, as the presiding bishop is extremely aged, I am here as his substitute until a new bishop can be elected to take the place of Bishop Willis."

"The House of Bishops will meet on April 16 in Cincinnati. At this meeting the house will transact a large amount of business among which will be the election of a new bishop for these islands. The new bishop will not arrive here immediately after his election, however, as there will be numerous formalities to go through first and it may take one month or two months or even more before he comes here. In the meantime, till his arrival, I will officiate and prepare the way for the coming bishop. I will this preach the sermons in the cathedral on Sunday next and after that."

"I have not had sufficient opportunity to form an opinion with regard to the present difficulties of the church and do, therefore, not wish to make any statement regarding them beyond saying that they will probably be a large extent smoothed out by themselves. What I can say, however, is that I am of the opinion that the church here in Hawaii is bound to grow in importance and influence. I say this not from any experience or knowledge of island affairs as I have only been here a very few days, but from a study of the conditions in the Pacific coast which are in many ways similar."

"The Pacific is the great future field of commerce. It is constantly developing and is now rapidly forcing its way to the very front and all the places near and in the Pacific ocean are growing in importance. With this growth, commercial and otherwise, the church must also expand and, as a consequence, the church here will follow in the steps of those on the Coast and rapidly develop into a very flourishing condition."

Retiring Bishop Willis of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Hawaii and Bishop Nichols, who is about to take over the jurisdiction of the church held a long conference yesterday afternoon in the private study of the former dignitary at Iolani College, discussing various important matters pertaining to the business and welfare of the church in these islands.

New choir benches and clogmen's stalls were installed in St. Andrew's Cathedral yesterday. They are handsome affairs, made of new lumber and stained appropriately. New kneelers are also to be put in and will be ready on Tuesday.

at the same time causing the exclusion of the most objectionable classes under our form of government, said petitions having secured the endorsement of a number of the Members of Congress. I feel that it is not out of place at this time to bring this article before you, trusting that as time may soon come when our people and labor organizations may work as one man for the change of a Chinese Exclusion Act to a General Exclusion Act where, by the honor of citizenship is made the standard of admission, and the rights of citizenship so protected by educational tests as to bar the unworthy and criminal classes.

MORE FREIGHTERS TO COME TO HONOLULU

Globe Navigation Company Contemplating Changes.

METEOR TO TAKE THE COAST-HAWAII RUN

Big Steamship to Come Here From
New York--Freight Rates To Be Lowered Again--
Tampico.

Two more freight steamships are to be added to the Honolulu service by the Globe Navigation Company of New York, Seattle, San Francisco and Honolulu. The business of this company in the Pacific ocean, and especially in the line between San Francisco and Honolulu, is so rapidly increasing that the addition of other freighters as soon as possible has become absolutely necessary.

Unless other disposition has been made of the Globe Navigation Company's steamer Meteor since Vice President T. W. Clise left San Francisco, that vessel will be ordered to Honolulu with a full load of general merchandise and will continue regularly in the run between the two ports, so that three regular freighters of the company, the Eureka, Captain Weedon; the Tampico, Captain Reed, and the Meteor, Captain Jensen, will ply between San Francisco and Seattle and this port, coming down with general merchandise and going back to the Coast with sugar.

These facts were given out yesterday by an excellent authority who has been in communication with the company's San Francisco office.

It was also learned that the Globe Navigation Company proposes sending out one of the two 8000-ton freighters now building on the Atlantic coast. One of these vessels will be completed in July and the other in November. The one that is completed in July will be dispatched from New York with general merchandise for Honolulu via San Francisco.

This boat is expected to arrive here about the first of October and may possibly be placed regularly on the San Francisco-Honolulu run.

The company has arranged for other boats to be built on the Atlantic coast. The two new buildings have great carrying capacity and will prove valuable additions to the fleet of freighters coming here. At least one of them will, as soon as completed, be put on the San Francisco-Manila run.

It is also stated that the Globe Navigation Company is about to lower its freight rates still more in order to meet the popular demand.

L. E. Beebe, the Honolulu agent of the Globe Navigation Company, who has an office in the Brewer building near the boat landing, was seen yesterday evening in regard to the report that the company contemplated adding to the Honolulu fleet of freighters and also concerning the matter of freight rates.

Mr. Beebe expressed some surprise at being questioned on the matter and declared that he knew absolutely nothing about either the addition to the fleet or the lowering of freight rates.

"It is certainly good news if it be correct," said Mr. Beebe, "and I have no reason that I know of for doubting its accuracy. I must say, however, that this is the first that I have heard of the matter and I only hope that it is true."

"Yes, we are undoubtedly in great need of more steamers to carry freight between here and the Coast. There is already more business than the Tampico and the Eureka are able to handle. I shall be glad to see the Meteor come here. I suppose if more steamers are going to be put on that the freight rates will naturally lower a bit, although, as I have already told you, I have received no information on the subject and therefore am ignorant of the plans of the company in this regard."

The Meteor is at present running between Seattle and San Francisco. She is a vessel of 1651 tons and capable of carrying 3800 tons of merchandise. It is said that she may arrive here before the Eureka, the latter being the next boat scheduled to arrive. The Eureka and the Meteor may, on the other hand, come in about the same time, their schedules to be arranged later.

The Globe Navigation Company's steamer William Nottingham has just made the run from Cape Plattery to Redondo, California, with one and a half million feet of lumber, in the un-

A SUCCESSFUL SMOKER

A very successful smoker was given last night by the Officers' Club in the bungalow on the palace grounds. Over 200 were present and enjoyed the cheer, which, in the shape of punch, cigars, cigarettes, etc., was offered to the members and the guests. Among the latter were a number of army officers from the transport Meade, the officers from Camp McKinley and the Naval Station. Also numerous United States civil service officers. The committee which got up the arrangements consisted of Dr. Meyers, Captain Paul Smith, Ed. H. Paris, W. A. Brown
and Frank Davey. Colonel McCarthy acted as chairman and delivered the opening speech. After this came speeches, songs, riddle, coin songs, dialect songs, etc., in rapid succession,
the intervals being filled with the seductive tones of rapid, stirring hula airs rendered by a quintet club.

Among the features of the evening were Mr. Mueller's songs in French and German followed by a ring of red-hot ragtime delivered while you wait
by Sonny Cunha. Reporter Boyd told a story and Harry Cousins followed in the same vein. A. B. Loebenstein and Attorney General E. P. Dole delivered patriotic speeches. Mr. Melcher and W. Thompson next gave vent to songs and H. Schultze followed with an instrumental selection. By this time Kappelmeyer Berger had arrived from the Opera House where he had been holding forth. He was called upon to show his genius. He immediately sat down at the piano and handed out a heterogeneous conglomeration of variegated selections covering the national airs of all nations from the Esquimaux to the Hottentots, hulas, love songs and some of the airs from "the old world" which never fail to make an impression upon the audience. The genial professor's able effort was greeted with well deserved applause.

Colonel Patrick Henry Ray, the officer in command of the troops on board the transport Meade, answered a toast to his famous namesake, Patrick Henry.

Quartermaster Williamson was next called upon for a speech and acquitted himself well despite his protest that an army officer's education was neglected as far as speechifying was concerned. After this there were numerous and variegated selections by whosoever felt the spirits moving him. An amateur effort in the noble art of hula kui to the inspiring accompaniment of the quintet club, was enthusiastically applauded until finally the hour grew late, the revelers weary and the last chord of the guitar died away as the officers and their guests bled themselves home after a well spent and enjoyable evening.
